Darling Dorel.

She came with her innocent beauty and grace,

An angel in heart and an angel in face,

As quaintly the old German chronicles tell

The picturesque story of Darling Dorel.

Some faces are bright like the sunbeam of day,

Wherever they shine the clouds vanish away,

While sorrow's pale phantom glides back to its cell,

And such was the face of the Darling Dorel.

Some hearts are so full of the treasures of love,

The beautiful gifts of the Giver above,

Their riches o'erflow into others a well;

And such was the heart of the Darling Dorel.

Some lives are like chords under music's control,

Each incident harmony blends with the whole,

Until on the ear in full concord they swell;

And such was the life of the Darling Dorel.

Whenever she passed through the streets of the town,

No story book queen with a scepter and crown,

But gifted with graces that none could excel,

The natural graces of the Darling Dorel.

Her ladies would bring with them comfits and toys,

For the bright little maidens and brave little boys,

While the children would follow love's magical spell,

And hasten to welcome their Darling Dorel.

The duchess knew not of her pretty new name,

Though far it was spread by the heralds of fame,

Till at length, as it happened, one day it befell

That she learned they called her the Darling Dorel.

'Twas breathed by a child's yet impolitic lips,

Which often the wisdom of sages eclipses;

The princess had asked if her name she could tell;

"Your name," said the child, "is the Darling Dorel."

The courtiers all stared, half in wonder, half sport;

Such a name savored more of the cot than the court;

But their mistresses said, smiling through tears

"It is well;

Henceforth let them call me the Darling Dorel."

"The proudest of titles that monarchs can show

Are those which the love of their people bestow;

And not for an emperor's crown would I sell

The title mine give me of Darling Dorel."

FARMER BRILL'S NEW PLEASURE.

Farmer Brill had been a hard working, industrious man, and now in his later years he was enjoying the fruit of his well directed toil; but not in the large measure that might have been his if he had known how to get the most from his possessions. The farmer had worked narrowly all his life, and now he was trying to enjoy himself narrowly, still hoping to find pleasure in receiving instead of giving. He did feel less kindly toward his neighbors than he should have felt, for he had never been so kind and helpful toward them as he should have been, and the consequence was that a great deal of coldness and ill-will lay between him and some of these neighbors. The origin of this ill-will could be traced, in most instances, to some denial of a service or favor asked in by-gone time. Farmer Brill was a staunch believer in the doctrine of self-help; he asked no favors and gave none, except grudgingly and with a bad grace.

And yet, hidden away down in his heart and covered over by selfishness and the love of gain, was an element of kindness that often stirred his nature and tried to assert itself in action.

The farmer sat in his shady porch one lovely autumn day, trying to enjoy himself. His fields had been reaped and his barns held the treasures of golden grain which the generous earth had given him.

All around him bent fruit-laden branches, and the air was musical with bees gathering honey for his hives. But, somehow, he was not happy. A neighbor rode past and bowed to him kindly.

"Miserable fellow!" said the farmer in his heart. "I can't bear the sight of him."

Another went by and the farmer turned his head so that no sign of recognition might pass between them. He knew this man to be in trouble, and he never cared to have anything to do with men in difficulties; they were apt to want help or favors, and to be offended when denied them.

Then the voice of a child called to him from the road: "Can't I have some apples, Mr. Brill?"

"No, you can't!" growled the farmer.

"Off with you! I don't believe in beggars."

The last sentence was spoken to himself, half in excuse and half in repentance for the selfishness and ill-nature he had betrayed.

Farmer Brill did not feel any more comfortable after this. The frightened look of the child as he added a threatening gesture to his hard speech remained with him and he could not shut it from his eyes, turn them which way he would.

Nor did he see them less distinctly when he shut his eyes and hung his chin upon his breast. Just how long he had remained in this attitude the farmer could not say, when a click from the latch on the gate caused him to look up and he saw a little woman in plain attire advancing up the walk. She was a stranger and yet there was something familiar about her. The freedom and plainness of speech with which she at once adressed him did not so much surprise as shame the farmer.

"It was not well of thee, Friend

Brill, to deny with harsh words the request of a child. Thy trees are laden with fruit and the ground is covered with thy unneeded abundance. These might have given the child one little apple."

The woman stood with her calm, ac-cusings eyes fixed on the farmer's face;

they seemed to penetrate his soul and to read his very thoughts.

"No, it was not well of thee, Friend

Brill," she repeated.

"I hate begging," answered the farmer, rallying himself.

"That was not common begging and these know it," replied the stranger.

"The child's father should have had fruit on his own trees. But he was too idle to plant them and now his children go begging of his neighbors."

"That is not his children's fault. If the poor little ones are hungry for apples and there has more than they can use why shall thee not be a better father in regard for them than he who is of their own flesh and blood? Would thee not give thy own children apples?"

"My own children! That is another thing. I have taken care of my own children."

"The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof, and we are all His children," answered the little woman. "He gives in charge to some His broad grain-fields and fruitful orchards, that they may fill barns and storehouses and lay up food for the hungry and seed for the sower, that His people die not for lack of bread. God has given thee of His earthly bounties more than a hundredfold beyond thy own need, and leisure to care for thy neighbors, and health in thy declining years. And yet thee is not happy, for thee is still trying to live for thyself alone."

"How does he live?" asked the farmer, raising his eyes from the ground, and looking up into his neighbor's face.

"His family would have suffered in many ways and his children gone often hungry to bed if some of us had not looked after him."

"I had no idea it was so bad," said the farmer. "Hungry children! I can't stand that. I must go and see him."

"I wish you would. It's a real case of charity."

"I'll go right off," said the farmer, turning away and going back into the house.

"I wonder what's come over the old man?" So the neighbor mused as he rode away. "Hope he is not going to die. I always thought he had a tender place somewhere in his heart if one only knew how to find it. He was a right generous sort of a fellow when a young man, but he was thrifty, and thrift seemed to harden him."

Half an hour afterward Farmer Brill drove off in his light wagon. There was a marvelous change in the expression of his fine old face. His eyes had a new luster in them, and the kinder temper of his blood was softening and warming

all the hard lines that had compressed themselves about his mouth and cut down rigidly between his brows, giving them a nobler and deeper human sentiment. In his wagon was a bag of flour, a bushel of potatoes, a side of bacon and twenty pounds of salt pork, besides corn

THE ANNUAL ELECTION.

On Tuesday last, there were elections in seven of the most important states of the Union, having an aggregate vote in the electoral college of 106. With the exception of New York, where, however, the Legislature will be Republican, all of them have been carried by the Republicans. In every instance the result is a complete reversal of one year ago, and is certainly of deep significance, and the effect must be to encourage the successful party to act up to the promises, prescribed condition of success:—"Be bold, be bold, be not too bold."

In this State, the Republican majority is about 5,000. The Senate will be composed of 32 Republicans and 8 Democrats; the House, of 173 Republicans and 58 Democrats.

In another place we give a statement of the vote for senators, etc.

In Arlington, the polls were opened at one o'clock, and the balloting at once commenced. There was less excitement and loud talk, inside or outside, than is usual. Numerous documents in regard to the eligibility of Hon. Oliver Warner were circulated, and the janitor's waste basket received heavy additions the next morning. Every one seemed in good humor, and there was only one arrest for drunkenness.

The only action of the meeting, during the afternoon, was the passage of a vote, on motion of Mr. Rodney J. Hardy, "that the time for closing the polls be fixed at ten minutes before 5 o'clock."

The polls were closed promptly at 4:50 o'clock, and soon afterwards, on motion of Hon. John Schouler, it was voted to take up article 2d of the warrant, and proceed to the choice of moderator. Hon. John Schouler was declared elected, but declining to serve, another ballot was had, resulting in the choice of Henry J. Wells, Esq. On motion of Mr. A. Norton it was voted that the consideration of town business be postponed, and that when this meeting adjourn it be to Tuesday, Nov. 9th, at 3 o'clock. An amendment, making the time 7 1/2 p. m., was carried. Immediately afterwards the chairman of the board of Selectmen announced the result of the balloting for Representative, which was received with applause, and most of the audience dispersed. In a short time afterwards the totals of the other tickets were given, and soon after six o'clock Arlington's part in the annual election was over.

She following is a tabular statement of the vote of the town:—

Mr. Hill, as a political indicator, is a signal failure.

THE PEOPLES' CHOICE.—The jovial face and robust form of the successful candidate for Representative from the 6th Middlesex District, are pleasantly familiar to most of the citizens of the district, especially those in this town, but now that he is brought so prominently forward, a closer acquaintance is desired. To an intimate friend we are indebted for the following items of personal history. Mr. Sam'l D. Hicks was born in Swansey, Mass., Oct. 15th, 1824. At the age of eighteen he left the old homestead, and came to Boston to learn the trade of coppersmith, being apprenticed to the old and honorable firm of John G. Loring & Co. After a service of eight years with this firm, he established himself in business, beginning at the lowest round of the business ladder,—employing an apprentice only. In 1854, the business having prospered under his management, he admitted to partnership with him another practical man, Mr. E. B. Badger, and the business has been continued, with increasing success, at 62-65 Pitts street, Boston, under the firm-name of Hicks & Badger, until the present time. Five years ago Mr. Hicks came to Arlington, purchased the estate of Mr. J. R. Bailey, on Pleasant street, and became a resident of our town. He has spent a large amount of money on the house and grounds since he became the owner, until the estate is now one of the most attractive on this our most beautiful street. Mr. Hicks has never taken a very active part in politics, and this office is the first one for which he was ever nominated. Though professedly a Democrat, and nominated by that party, his personal merits and popularity, as well as disaffection in the Republican ranks, were no small elements which contributed to his success, and to the defeat of his opponent, and his election cannot, therefore, be called a triumph of party. That Mr. Hicks will faithfully and honestly care for the interests of the whole district, no one who knows him doubts.

THE CONCERT.—The entertainment given in the Town Hall, last Monday evening, by the "Barnabee Concert Troupe," was a complete success in every respect. The hall was filled to overflowing, and the artists, experiencing the inspiration which a full house always affords, done themselves ample justice. Mrs. Georgia Bent, the soprano, has a voice, clear, musical and full of pathos, and her solos were received with hearty encores. Her "Where is Heaven?" and "Water Cresses," are musical gems, and her rendering of them made them sparkle. Mr. W. J. Welch, the tenor, has a remarkably good voice, finely cultivated, but though well received, his solos did not elicit enthusiastic applause. Miss Persis Bell was down on the programme for two violin solos, but the audience were not satisfied until in each instance she responded to their Oliver Twist demand "for more" of the beautiful music she so artistically rendered. Mr. Barnabee is comical under any circumstances, and when he essays to move the "risibles" of an audience he is irresistible. Again and again he was called out, each time convulsing the audience with laughter, and retiring amid deafening applause. His "Hearty Laugh," "Maniac's Appeal," "Patent Arm," and "Sneeze," seemed to please the audience most. The trio, and the quartette, were finely rendered. Mr. Howard M. Dow filled the position of accompanist with his usual grace, adding much to the effect of each part of the programme.

The next entertainment, which will occur on the 16th inst., will be given by our townsman, J. T. Trowbridge, Esq., and is to consist of readings from his own works.

COMPLETED.—The granite curbing around the estate of Mr. Nathan Robbins has this week been surmounted with a handsome wooden fence, painted and sanded to represent granite, and the improvement is now complete. The change in the fencing adds immensely to the appearance and value of the estate.

SOCIABLE.—One of the pleasantest of the series of entertainments given last season was that of Bethel Lodge, in their lodge room in Bank Building. All will be pleased to know that they are to be revived this season, the first of the series occurring Nov. 10th.

MARKED DOWN.—The Woburn Gas Company has reduced the price of gas to $3.60 per 1,000 feet, with a still further reduction to $3.20 to those who make prompt payments. As a consequence, nearly every one in town is a consumer.

Still further improvements have been made to the centre depot by the erection of "storm doors." The building is now a very comfortable waiting place.

CROSSING.—The horse railroad track has been planked in front of Ober's furniture store.

Elizur Wright woke up Wednesday morning and found that he has been running for Senator in the Herald, and not in the Second Middlesex District.

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS.—Not as an item of news (as the real question was settled last Tuesday), but as a matter of record, we give the following report of the Democratic Representative caucus, on the evening of Friday, Oct. 29th.

The caucus assembled in Menotomy Hall; was called to order by Mr. Rodney J. Hardy; and organized by the choice of Mr. Otis Green, chairman, and T. G. Bucknam, secretary. Mr. C. B. Fessenden, of the committee to confer with Winchester, reported that though the nomination belonged to that town, they waived their right in favor of Mr. S. D. Hicks, of Arlington, whom they had nominated, enthusiastically, at a large meeting. Under the circumstances, this meeting, though important, was a secondary affair, and, he, therefore, moved that Mr. Samuel D. Hicks, of Arlington, be the nominee of this caucus. The motion was put and carried unanimously and enthusiastically. A committee, consisting of Messrs. Pattee, R. J. Hardy and Fessenden, were appointed to notify Mr. Hicks of his nomination, and request his attendance at the hall. Soon afterwards he put in an appearance, and spoke as follows:—

"Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen.—I thank you for this kind reception. If I am elected, will serve you faithfully. I accept the nomination gratefully. As I am not much of a speech maker, must be excused from further remarks."

A rallying committee was chosen, and after resolving itself into a committee of the whole to try and secure the election of the nominee, the caucus dissolved. It was the largest Democratic caucus ever held in town.

SENATORIAL.—The following is the vote for Senator in the 2d District:

	Bowman.	Rhymes.
Arlington,	178	333	8
Belmont,	91	133	—
Everett,	207	133	—
Malden,	484	316	—
Medford,	149	470	96
Somerville,
Ward I.,	302	208	—
Ward II.,	175	276	—
Ward III.,	215	56	—
Ward IV.,	122	118	—
Waltham,	671	563	44
Watertown,	376	257	15
Total,	2970	2863	163

The above figures indicate the election of Mr. S. Z. Bowman, of Somerville, by a plurality of 167 votes.

RECITATIONS.—Miss Nina Foster, of New York, who succeeded so well in pleasing a select audience in Tremont Temple, Boston, on the 18th ult., will favor the citizens of Arlington with an entertainment at an early date. Full particulars in our next issue.

We clip the following from the prospectus of the Woburn Advertiser:—"From and after November 1, 1875, all new subscribers paying the price of one year's subscription from January 1, 1875, will receive the remaining numbers of 1875."

A remarkable offer, surely.

The terrible accident to an acrobat at Bowling Green Ky., whose balloon took fire, reminds us of a similar catastrophe that happened to Madame Blanchard, many years ago, though there is nothing said in this case of the use of fireworks to cause the accident.

WINTER HAS COME.—During the night of Monday, Nov. 1st, we had our first snow fall. On Tuesday morning the ground was nearly covered. From these indications, the coming season promises to be a "hard" one in more senses than one.

FAIRY QUEEN.—The children who compose the choruses in this popular operetta, which Mr. Prentiss is to bring before our citizens at an early date, are becoming proficient, and the soloists are well up in their parts. It will be a charming entertainment.

ADJOURNMENT.—Don't forget the adjourned Town Meeting, next Tuesday evening, at 7 o'clock. Matters of considerable importance will be brought forward, and there should be a full attendance.

John Cummings had a plurality in every town in his district, and was serenaded election night at his residence. The district was never carried by so strong a vote before.

The following is the vote for representative in the 21st Middlesex Dist.

	Lex.	Bed.	Dur.	Car.
Webster Smith, Lex.	158	31	34	50
B. C. White, "	112	5	47	6
M. B. Webber, Bedford,	38	139	4	47

PLEASANT PARTY.—There was a very pleasant gathering of little folks, with some of their parents and guardians, at the Spy Pond House, last week Thursday, at the birthday party given by a daughter of the proprietor.

TARGET PRACTICE.—A party of some twenty gentlemen, from Boston, had a target shoot, at the Spy Pond gallery, last Wednesday afternoon.

OLD FOLKS.—Considering the thinness of the house, the company of "old folks" who gave a concert in the Town Hall, last Wednesday evening, gave a very good entertainment.

That eminent idol, Juggernath, is in a bad way in India, according to the Pall Mall Gazette, owing to the delapidation of his pagoda at Pooree. An immense block of stone, ten feet long, five broad and four in depth, fell from the inner cornice of the temple the other day. There is a prophecy that when the first stone is unstained the temple shall not stand—a prophecy which must furnish food for unpleasant reflection to Juggernath, or rather to the priests who represent him. It is estimated that the repairs will take fourteen years to complete, and during this time no public worship or festival is allowed in Pooree. As the temple was built in the middle of twelfth century, and no repairs have been made upon it for 700 years, it is not surprising that the stone should have dropped out. The dome is composed of immense blocks of stone, not kept together by cement or mortar of any kind, but made fast by an elaborate process of dovetailing, the slabs being arranged in horizontal layers, narrowing towards the eul, covered by a huge head-piece, carved and ornamented.

A woman has been discovered in Ohio who was born on the 4th of July, 1776, the very day of the declaration. Her name is Trimmer, and we are informed, by way of overcoming our incredulity, that her mother lived to be 100 years old and that her maternal grandfather reached the patriarchal age of 110. This old lady ought certainly to form a feature of next year's celebration. By putting her in cotton wool she might be safely transported to Philadelphia, and when once there she could be made comfortable.

DAMAGES.—Mr. Thomas E. Thorpe, who was injured in Manchester, during the visit of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, of Boston, to that city, in October, 1874, has been awarded $1750.00 damages, and received the amount last Wednesday.

ACCIDENT.—A man in the employ of Mr. Daniel McIntire, of Burlington, fell from his team in Pierce's coal yard, Thursday afternoon, and sprained his ankle quite badly.

CHANGE OF TIME.—The Boston & Lowell R.R. have just issued a new time table, to go into effect Nov. 8th. There are no changes in Middlesex Branch trains.

"God save the Commonwealth!"—Henry B. Peirce, Secretary of State, will sound a little odd at first.

RAIN FALL.—The rain fall for the month of October was 3 1/2 inches.

Lexington Locals.

Annual Town Meeting.

In Lexington, the polls opened at one o'clock, and the voting quietly proceeded until 3 o'clock, when the meeting was called to order to vote on town affairs, with the following result:—

Mr. Frank E. Wetherell was chosen Moderator, under Article 1.

Art. 2.—To see if the town will authorize the Committee appointed in March last, to purchase a lot of land and build an Engine House thereon, to change the location to some other lot than that specified in their report, if in their judgment it shall be for the interest of the town so to do.

Mr. J. F. Simonds moved that the town authorities have power to select some other location. After some discussion, the whole subject was referred to the March meeting.

Art. 3.—To see if the town will raise a Committee to ascertain the price of the estate of Wm. H. Smith, in reference to adding the same to the Cemetery, and to report thereon.

Postponed to March meeting.

Art. 4.—To see what provision the town will make for the permanent care of lots in the Cemeteries, where funds are provided.

After considerable discussion, this article was referred to March meeting.

Art. 5.—To see if the town will authorize the Selectmen to dig a large well that will serve as a reservoir, below the Hay Scales, near the Common, and furnish the same with a pump and trough for public use.

On motion of Mr. Amos W. Locke, it was voted that the Selectmen have full power to carry the article into effect, and draw money for the same.

Art. 6.—To see if the town will appropriate the sum of Three Hundred Dollars to make repairs on the highway near the house of Cornelius Wellington.

Adopted.

Art. 7.—To see if the town will appropriate the sum of One Hundred and Fifty Dollars to build a shed in the rear of Village Hall, in East Lexington, for wood, coal, etc.

This article was unanimously passed.

Art. 8.—To see if the town will authorize the Selectmen to cause the road, recently laid out near the house of Mrs. Jane M. Bruce, to be built.

This article was adopted, and the Selectmen and Highway Surveyors were authorized to take the necessary steps to have the road built.

Art. 9.—To hear the report of any Committee that may be ready to report, and act thereon.

No committee being ready to report, the meeting was dissolved.

The following is the result of the balloting for State and other officers:

FOR SENATOR—5TH MIDDLESEX DISTRICT.
Whole number of votes,	317
John Cummings, of Woburn,	194
A. E. Thompson, of Woburn,	118
Scattering,	5
For Representative, 21st Mid. District.
Whole number of votes,	311
Webster Smith, of Lexington,	158
B. C. White, of Lexington,	112
M. B. Webber, of Bedford,	38
W. H. Monroe, of Lexington,	5

Quiet, and want of excitement was the general order of the day. Some friends of Mr. Webster, of Bedford, the candidate of the bolters, tried hard to get up a triangular fight, but as far as Lexington was concerned, made a decided failure. Their mid-night work pasting up posters for their favorite, was a big thing—on paper.

OUR REPRESENTATIVE.—Mr. Webster Smith, Representative elect for the 21st Middlesex District, was born May 21st, 1825. Though not a Lexington man by birth, he is a descendant from the same revolutionary stock as the Lexington families. In 1852 he purchased the well known Pliminy place, where he now resides. Mr. Smith, since his residence in town, has always been an active and public-spirited citizen. During the rebellion he was one of the Selectmen, and most zealously labored to fill up the quota and maintain the credit of the old town for patriotism and devotion to the Union.

Mr. Smith is a gentleman of decided opinions and feelings. He never takes any half-way course, and both friends and enemies know where to find him, always. He is a very good exponent of a wide-awake, intelligent and well-informed farmer,—liberal progressive, and will well represent his district.

PLEASANT TIME.—Last Wednesday evening, a delegation of the "faithful twenty-one," from Bedford, came down and paid their respects to Mr. Webster Smith, at his residence. Mr. Smith received them warmly and gave them a good supper. Among the sentiments given was the following:

"To the 250000 voters of Bedford, May they have learned one thing, that it is dangerous and fatal business to switch off the track, and sure to kill (politically) the Mark aimed at."

The company returned on the late train, having spent a very pleasant evening.

The Rev. Mr. Westcott delivered a very instructive lecture at the Unitarian church, last Sunday evening. Subject: "How young people should spend the Sabbath." Mr. Westcott treated the subject in a sensible, common-sense manner, and was listened to with marked attention.

ARTISAN.—Several of our young men are seriously talking of emigrating to this new territory. We understand quite a number from Lexington attended the meeting of the "Arizona Colonization Company," at John A. Andrew Hall, Boston, last Wednesday evening, and were highly pleased with the reports from the promised land.

We are happy to announce that Mr. Eli Simonds is rapidly recovering from the serious illness which completely prostrated him a few days since, and which at one time threatened to prove fatal. Mr. Simonds is one of the institutions of the town, and we should hardly know how to keep school without him.

LEXINGTON CENTENNIAL.—We have just received a copy of the "Lexington Centennial." It is nicely arranged and finely printed, and should find a ready sale. For want of time we defer a more full notice to our next issue.

FAIR.—We are informed, whether correctly or not we are uncertain, that the fair in aid of the East Lexington church, will be held next Wednesday afternoon and evening. Ask the Postmaster,—he will tell you all about it.

LECTURES.—As there is some talk of getting up a course of lectures for the coming winter, is it not high time to move in the matter? Will some of the friends of the movement call a meeting?

At the Democratic Convention held at Bedford last Friday evening, the following gentlemen were chosen as "District Committee":—William Plummer, Lexington; George L. Pierce, East Lexington; Edmund Reed, Burlington; Jonas Melvin, Bedford; Wm. Lee, Carlisle.

Marriages.

In Lexington, Nov. 3, by Rev. Henry Westcott, Mr. Francis Wyman and Miss A. T. Howe, all of Lexington.

Deaths.

Date, name, and age inserted free, all other notices 10 cents a line.

In Lexington, Oct. 26th, John Mooney, aged 60 years.
In Arlington, Nov. 3, George C., son of Alvin and Emma F. Robbins, aged 5 years, 1 month, 1 day.
In Arlington, Nov. 3, Charles E., son of Albert and Ella C. Needham, aged 3 months, 30 days.

P. O. REMOVAL.—With the exodus of Mr. Childs to his new and handsomely fitted-up grocery store, in his new building, goes the post office, and our citizens are congratulating themselves on their increased postal facilities. The enterprise Mr. Childs has shown is deserving of reward.

Mr. Childs is prepared to offer extra inducements, in his new store, to all desiring first-class groceries, etc.

The present hard times are the very best times for a man with a little money to make a good thing. Everything is cheaper, and now is the time to invest. A little money expended in printer's ink will be sure to produce great results. JOB PRINTING is a specialty at this office, and we can give our customers good work at low prices, and on short notice. If you have a stock of goods and want to move it, let the people know where they can make a good bargain.

PTYLE'S DIETETIC SAKERATE.—Universally acknowledged the best in use. Each pound bears the name of JAMES PTYLE. None genuine without.

Constable's Sale.

Middlesex ss.

Lexington, October 13th, 1875.

TAKEN ON execution, and will be sold by public auction, on Wednesday, November 24th, 1875, at 4 o'clock, p. m., on the premises, all the right in equity that Edward Haragan, otherwise called Edward Haragan, of said Lexington, had on the seventh day of August, 1875, (being the time when the same was attached on mesne process) to redeem the following described mortgaged real estate, viz: A certain lot of land, with the building thereon, situated in said Lexington, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning on the northerly side of the Woburn road (so called) at land now or late

THE BOSTON TEA STORE

IN THE NEW BANK BUILDING, Arlington.

At the close of its first year salutes its patrons, and congratulates them and itself that the experiment of selling Groceries as low as the lowest BOSTON PRICES has been tried, and is a success. Notwithstanding our speedy ruin has been constantly predicted on the account of our low prices, we announce ourselves ready, like another Oliver Twist, for "MORE" of the same kind of ruin, and with our steadily increasing trade shall continue to sell LOWER than ever BEFORE. The comparatively cheap rent, compared with Boston rents, and the trifling cost of transportation, together with our facilities for buying at BOTTOM PRICES! enable us to compete with, and even under sell any Grocer in Boston.

Residents of Arlington and adjoining towns who have heretofore bought all their Groceries in Boston find it convenient and a saving of time and money to buy of us. It has been our constant endeavor for the past year, 1st, to select the best goods, and 2d, to sell them at the least possible margin of profit, especially so in regard to those two great staples—Tea and Flour. We do not pretend to own a rich plantation in China, where we grow our own Teas, nor do we lay claim to the equally absurd transparency that we are a company formed for importing and distributing Teas direct to the consumers. So many changes have been rung on that story by the numerous sham tea companies that no one at this day is deceived by it.

Our Teas are selected with judgment and discrimination by a gentleman who has had great experience in the business, and when our customers buy it they do not have to pay for libels on outraged nature in the form of cheap chromos, or for the expense of eight enormous horses standing idly at our doors all day, attached to a huge wagon loaded with saw-dust, enclosed in Tea mats. We challenge comparison of our TEAS, as to price and quality, with any in the country. Our prices range from 50 to 90 cents, from choice to fancy grades of all kinds of Teas. Our stock of FLOUR comprises the best grades of Michigan, St. Louis and fancy Minnesotas, which we are retailing for $1.00 per barrel less than they can be bought any where else. Sugars at Refiners prices. The best standard Kerosene Oil for 15 cents per gallon.

Especial attention is given to the selection of fancy Vermont and New York Butter for families. Imported Pickles, Jellies, and Sauces and Canned Goods in variety. Also, Foreign and Domestic Fruits and Nuts in their season.

Malaga Grapes, 30 cents per lb. Strictly pure Candies, warranted from the best manufacturers, only 25 cents per lb., 5 lbs. for $1.00.

We do not DEFY, we INVITE competition. COMPETITION IS THE LIFE of trade. To amend the celebrated aspiration of a celebrated man,

LET US HAVE LIFE.

SUMMARY OF NEWS.

Items of Interest from Home and Abroad.

Proposals for the new Canadian loan for two and one-half millions sterling have just been issued in London. Three-fifths of this sum are guaranteed by the Imperial government, and the other two-fifths are issued on the credit of Canada alone. The rate of interest of both is four per cent. A telegram from Berlin says that the estimates for the German empire for 1876 show a deficiency of $3,750,000. A firm in Manchester, England, has begun the importation of American calicoes. During the recent storms in Great Britain a number of vessels were lost and many lives sacrificed. Ben Boyd, the most notorious and successful counterfeiter in the country, was captured by secret service detectives in Illinois. They also seized a number of plates and much material for making counterfeit. The commissioner of internal revenue has decided that white hie is a similar liquor to ale, porter and lager beer, and subject to a tax of one dollar per barrel of thirty-one gallons. Mrs. Walton, the divorced wife of Hiram Walton, of Mercer, Mo., who has been living with Greenleaf Tracy, was shot and killed by Tracy in a fit of jealousy. He then fled to the woods and shot himself. Both were dead when found. Henry Brown, the negro who killed Philip Pfarr, a German, living a few miles from St. Louis, and then ravished and robbed his wife, was hanged in the yard of the jail. In a brief speech made on the scaffold, he admitted having struck Pfarr the blow which caused his death, but denied outraging Mrs. Pfarr.

The census of Massachusetts for 1875 shows a population of 1,651,652. The initial revival by Moody and Sankey was held in Brooklyn, N. Y., at the early hour of eight o'clock of a Sunday morning, and was attended by about five thousand persons, nearly ten thousand being turned away. The service at four o'clock was equally crowded, and it was found necessary to open two neighboring churches. Attorney-General Pierpont has given an elaborate opinion confirming the opinion that the United States is pledged for the payment of the principal and interest of the 3.65 District bonds. A carriage containing five persons was overturned on the Schuylkill river opposite Manayunk, Pa. Henry Getler, of Philadelphia, his mother and child were drowned. Dr. Linderman, the director of the mint, is hopeful of the future production of gold and silver. From his late personal observations he thinks the sum total next year will be $100,000,000, of which amount the Comstock lode will furnish one-half. Peter Murray and his bride were burned to death at Cheshire, Conn., by their house catching fire. The commissioner of pensions, in his annual report, places the number of pensioners at 234,821, a decrease of 1,420 since the previous year. The total amount expended amounted to $29,683,116.63. United States Treasurer New recommends that the redemption bureau be made a separate office under the secretary of the treasury.

Baltimore dedicated its city hall with appropriate exercises and a procession containing ten thousand men. The building cost over $2,000,000. The Richmond Enquirer has been sold to parties from the New York Tribune and Boston Post, who will publish it as a conservative Democratic sheet. The annual report of the free delivery division of the Post-office department shows that there are now employed by that bureau of the service 2,195 carriers, and that they delivered during the fiscal year nearly 228,000,000 letters, 68,000,000 newspapers, and some 34,000,000 postal cards, besides collecting about 243,000,000 pieces of various kinds. The total cost of the service was $1,880,042, and the receipts from postage on local matter $1,947,559. The survivors of the Balaklava charge, soldiers of the Light Brigade, the "six hundred" who "rode into the valley of death," celebrated the twenty-first anniversary with a public dinner in London. A disease, similar to the epizootic, is killing off the cattle in several counties bordering on the Pennsylvania side of the Delaware river. Russia has decided to exhibit only her peculiar products at the Centennial exhibition. A skiff, heavily loaded with colored people, was crossing the river at St. Louis and sprang a leak. One of the occupants became excited and capsized the boat, and all were drowned except two. A boiler in the paper mill of Morrison, Barre & Co., at Hoising Springs, Pa., exploded, destroying the mill and injuring ten men. Loss, $20,000. The treasurer of Santo Domingo announces that the republic is bankrupt.

Virginia City, Nev., has been nearly destroyed by a conflagration, which consumed all the business portion of the town and all the best portion of the residences, rendering ten thousand people homeless and destitute. It was necessary to blow up buildings to stop the flames, as there was no water for the engines. The hoisting apparatus and mills of the wealthy mines known as Consolidated Virginia and Ophir, on the Comstock lode, were totally destroyed, but the flames were prevented from extending into the mines by bulkheads. The losses can only be estimated by millions. By the burning of a house in Green Bank, N. J., a boy named Edwin Cramer was burned to death. His aunt, Miss Cramer, attempted to escape from an upper window, when the sash fell and caught her by the body, leaving her head hanging down. She succeeded in raising the sash, when she fell to the ground, and received injuries from which she will die.

Lee & Walker, the music publishers of Philadelphia, have failed, with liabilities amounting to $175,000. The assets will cover all indebtedness if time is allowed on which to realize. Mr. Bennett's yacht Dauntless beat the Mohawk in the great ocean race. The bronze statue of Stonewall Jackson, which was presented to Virginia by some admiring Englishmen, was unveiled with great ceremony at Richmond. Gen. Joe Johnson commanded the procession. It is thought that the English government will prosecute the consignees of the arms shipped hence to China during the recent negotiations. The Serbian legislature has passed, by a vote of sixty-one against forty-two, a motion for war with Turkey.

The insurrection in Khokand has been renewed, and the new Khan has fled to Khond. Emperor William, of Germany, declares to the German Parliament that peace is more secured now than at any time in the past twenty years. The President has appointed Thursday, November 25, for a day of thanksgiving. John Dowdell shot his son James in the head with a load of buckshot, injuring him fatally, in New York. Both had been on a drunken debauch all the night before.

The suffering occasioned by the fire in Virginia City was great, and as there were many residents afflicted with typhoid fever, a number of deaths have occurred from exposure. The extortionate demands of drivers of vehicles retarded many in the removal of sick, and in one case resulted in a murder, where a father, frenzied to find he was unable to pay the price of removal, shot the driver dead. The losses by the fire are now estimated at something over $3,000,000, on which the insurance is $1,200,000. The director of the United States mint has received a dispatch from the mines saying it will be months before any bullion can be supplied, on account of the destruction of the works. John Dolan was found guilty of murder in the first degree on the charge against him for killing Mr. Noe, in his brush shop in New York. Venezuela is quiet. Business is improving, and general confidence prevails all over the country. The crops of coffee and cocoa will be abundant. The official returns of the Ohio election give Hayes 5,548 majority. D. R. Fogg, of St. Louis, shot Pauline Plachman, aged sixteen years, to whom he was engaged to be married, but did not marry her. He then fatally stabbed himself. Four men were killed by an explosion of gas in the Racoon Pit coal mine, Chesterfield county, Va.

The October report of the Department of Agriculture shows that the cranberry crop is short, rice is abundant, sugar fully up to the average, hops quite good, hemp very fine, and the number of fattening cattle larger than that of any previous year. The losses by the Virginia City fire grow by day, as the full damage is made known; it is now set down by competent figures at $7,000,000. Food and clothing for the destitute is pouring in from all parts of the country. The Farmer of London says the cases of cattle disease for the quarter ending October 16, were as follows: In Somersetshire, 83,000; in Cheshire, 50,000; in Dorsetshire, 48,000; in Gloucestershire, 44,000; in Oxfordshire, 39,000; in Warwickshire, 33,000; in Norfolk, 31,000; in Cumberland, 23,000. Throughout England and Wales there were for the same time over 500,000 cases. The money damage is estimated at a million dollars. The Nassau club of New York beat the Anconians of Washington, in a three-mile straightaway race on the Potomac, in twenty minutes and fifty seconds. The proprietor of the Cardiff giant has sued the Boston Herald for $50,000 for questioning the genuineness of the petrification. A sailor, claiming to be the sole survivor of the bark Jewess, of Boston, which sailed a year and a half ago for New South Wales, has just turned up, and tells a horrible story, to the effect that the Jewess, with an unknown English bark, were becalmed off the Auckland islands for several days, and that one night both were boarded by savages, the crew overpowered, the vessels scuttled, and the prisoners taken ashore and eaten. A fast mail to New Orleans via Charlotte and Atlanta, and a second one from Washington to Chicago, are projected. M. Gambetta has issued a manifesto favoring amnesty, departmental voting, and State control of education.

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD.

Farm Notes.
Kansas sows twenty-five per cent more wheat this fall than in any other previous year.

We have said repeatedly that the best way of treating the cabbage worms is to leave it in the hands of its parasite.

A Michigan potato grower reports Eureka equal in quality to Early Rose and Snowflake a little better.

Buy of and sell to men whom you know personally, or who are engaged in regular, permanent business, whenever this can be done. Other things being equal, buy and sell in the market nearest home.

Bees keeping is characterized by an intelligent correspondent of the Maine Farmer as "a science," and he adds, very truthfully, that a person who would succeed in the business must not have only a fancy for it, to begin with, but experience.

The writer once lost a large jar of butter down a well where it remained for three years. On cleaning the well the butter was found to be perfectly good, except an inch on the top. Good butter will keep any length of time when completely excluded from the air, in a cool place.

Gather up the farm tools and carefully put them away for another year. Remember, there is much made in saving as there is in making. The tool that would wear out in a year or two if left exposed, when protected with shelter and other care, will last you to raise several additional crops.

Unwilling to share his ripening cherries with the birds, he paid a good round price for an admirably formed cat, large as life, and almost as natural, of a beautiful tortoise shell color, with a "cut-looking" head and noble tail, and set him up conspicuously in the favorite tree—believing the representations of the dealer in iron cats, that he would frighten away all feathered depredators from the neighborhood. Fancy his feelings then, when, the very next morning, he saw a robin perched on that iron cat's back and looking leisurely about to see which cherry it had better go for first!

Hints to Horsemen.
If your horse is in the habit of kicking, use a low board, and your horse will soon get over it.

Keep your horse fat; don't allow any one to get a lien on him.

When your horse refuses to take up an oat, consider him as having failed.

To make your horse fast, tie him with halters.

Look carefully after the bits of your horse, or you may soon be looking after the bits of your wagon.

If you have a proper address you may receive a couple of lines from a horse, but on no account drop a line.

However you may be attached to your horse, you must be certain that your horse is well attached to your carriage.

A Capital Idea.

There is a movement on foot in England to establish "village school kitchens." The scheme has been found to answer well in some instances. The older girls are told off for the purpose, and work together under superintendence, six at a time, two as cooks and four as chamber maids. The meat cooked is sold at a low price, sometimes to the parents of the children at the school, sometimes to such of the scholars as come from a distance and are glad to be spared the burden of carrying their dinners with them. The cooking is only carried on on certain days, and so well has the work been arranged with respect to the other school occupations that the needle-work and general efficiency of the scholars has not suffered in the least, and they have ever been especially commended for their culinary triumphs by the diocesan inspector.

A new process of refrigeration, by the use of ammonia brought by great pressure to a low temperature, has been introduced from Paris. It is applicable to cellars, packing rooms, compartments in ships, etc., and is intended to keep the air in the rooms pure, dry, and very cold, without the use of ice.

Washday is a holiday, thanks to Dobbin's Electric Soap (made by O'Grain & Co., Phila.) which is rapidly coming into general use. It acts like magic, and bleaches clothing without injuring it.

IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENT IN TREATING BUTTER.—The Elastic Truss Company have produced a great revolution in the treatment of hernia. Their new truss is worn every night and day; adapts itself to every motion of the body; never displaced by hardest exercise; retains its position comfortably all upon permanent cure. Sold at the office of the company, No. 683 Broadway, New York City. Trusses sent by mail. Send for circular.—Com.

All who suffer from coughs, colds, irritation of the bronchial tubes or tendency to consumption, will find in Dr. Williams' Balsam of Wild Cherry an agreeable to the palate as effective in removing disease. The balsam is a pleasant, safe and powerful remedy; it acts promptly and seldom fails to effect a cure. Fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, large bottles much the cheaper.—Com.

Lung fever, common colds, catarrhal fever, and nasal discharge of a brownish color in horses, may be checked at once by liberal use of Sheridan's Catarrhal Powder.—Com.

Important to Travelers.
Persons visiting New York or leaving by the cars from Grand Central Depot, will save annoyance and expense of carriage hire and baggage express by stopping at Grand Union Hotel, opposite Grand Central Depot. Over 350 elegantly furnished rooms and fitted up at a cost of $900,000. European plan. Guests can live more luxuriously for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class house in New York. Stages and street cars pass the door for all parts of the city. See that the hotel you enter is the Grand Union Hotel.—Com.

The season for coughs and colds is rapidly approaching, and every one should be prepared to check the first symptoms, as a cough contracted between now and Christmas frequently lasts all winter. There is no better remedy than Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. For all diseases of the throat and lungs it should be used internally and externally.—Com.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, FOR THE CURS OF CONSUMPTION, COUGHS AND COLDS.

The great virtue of this medicine is that it ripens the matter and throws it out of the system, purifies the blood, and thus effects a cure.

SCHENCK'S SEA WEDD TONIC, FOR THE CURE OF DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, ETC.
The Tonic produces a healthy action of the stomach, creating an appetite, forming chyle, and curing the most obstinate cases of indigestion.

SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, FOR THE CURE OF LIVER COMPLAINT, ETC.
These Pills are alterative, and produce a healthy action of the liver without the least danger, as they are free from opium and every other deleterious element.

These remedies are a certain cure for Consumption, as the Pulmonic Syrup ripens the matter and purifies the blood; the Sea Wedd Tonic creates a healthy action of the stomach, creating an appetite, forming chyle, and curing the most obstinate cases of indigestion.
